WHO ARE WE?

Established in 2016, Guzarish is a Non Government Organization (NGO), registered as a trust under the Indian Trusts Act.

Guzarish's flagship project 'Books For All' - focuses on bridging the gap between people who have excess of books and those who need books.

Books for All was started by Ankit Manchanda and three of his friends – Jaibeer Singh, Prachi Luthra and Sanymi Gupta (the 3 being Teach For India Fellows) in 2016. During their tenure as TFI fellows, they observed that greater learning outcomes can be provided in government schools with supplementary reading material for a holistic development of children.

WHAT DO WE DO?

THE PROBLEM

According to a research, more than 2 million kids in India cannot afford a book to read. On the other hand, there are privileged people who have piles of books lying on their shelves – which are sold as scrap (raddi).

THE SOLUTION

We, at Books For All aim to bridge this gap by offering FREE DOORSTEP PICK UP for collecting books from individuals/ schools/ corporates, etc and distributing them to underprivileged kids across the country, ensuring that every kid has access to books.

HOW WE OPERATE

COLLECT

We reach out to donors and collect books, also offering Free Doorstep Pick-up.

CATEGORIZE

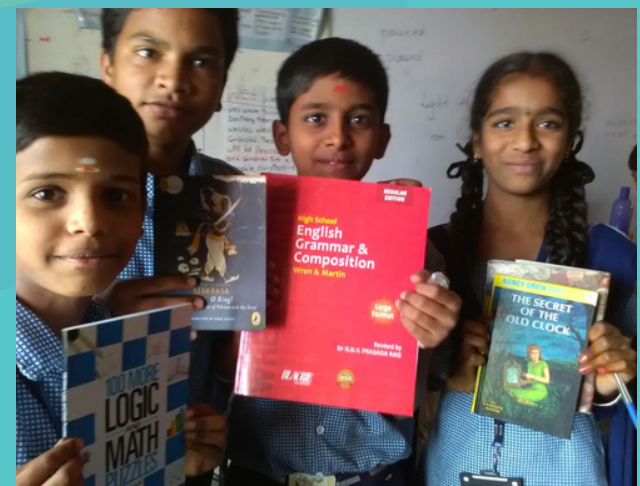

The books are then brought to the warehouse cum library- The Book House, and sorted into different categories

DISTRIBUTE

We distribute the donated books to credible NGOs and organise book fairs in Govt schools

IMPACT ASSESMENT

We assess the impact by sharing the book reviews written by kids to ensure donors that their books are being used
